

GERMANIC	English	Oak
	German	Eiche
	Dutch	Eik
	Swedish	Ek
CELTIC	Welsh	Derw
	Cornish	Derow
	Breton	Dervenn, Dero, Derv
	Irish	Dair
	Manx	Darragh
	Scottish Gaelic	Darach, Darag
	Greek	δρυς (drys)
	Albanian	dushk, drushk
SLAVIC	Russian	дуб (dub)
	Polish	Dąb
	Ukrainian	дуб (dub)
	Czech	Dub
	Bulgarian	дъб (dǔb)
	Slovak	Dub
ROMANCE	Italian	"In the family languages we have looked at so far, there is a certain consistency in the term used for "oak" in different languages within the group, save for rare exceptions in areas of higher oak diversity. This is not the case with the Romance languages, which despite their common origin from Vulgar Latin, use quite different words for 'oak'. ""An Oak by Any Other Name," Roderick Cameron. International Oaks , 32, 2021
	French
	Portuguese	