Meet every Tuesday at the Karl Loerch Gazebo at noon for hour long tours
March 30-May 11

Throughout the spring months, Maxwell Arboretum changes constantly. Keep up with what’s blooming with weekly walking tours led by Emily Levine.

We’ll see the earliest small bulbs, later blooming daffodils and tulips, as well as spring-flowering shrubs and ornamental trees like magnolias, dogwoods, amelanchiers, crabapples, viburnums, lilacs, and rhododendrons.

Emily Levine is Special Projects Research Horticulturist in the Department of Agronomy and Horticulture, and former Grounds Supervisor of Maxwell Arboretum
